

Dear Mr.Tree,

As you already know you are wonderful, but you're so much more to us humans. You clean our air, you reduce stress and anxiety and prevent $7 billion in U.S. health costs, you can absorb 48 pounds of CO2 a year! You want to know something else cool? More than 1.6 billion of you and your fellow trees are home to 80% of all animal and plant species! You're the best building material for dog houses, normal houses, and even skyscrapers!! You alone can intercept 15,000 liters of water per year and you reduce 7-24% of particulate matter. You also provide humans with endless hours of fun and paper and wood products. So Mr.Tree remember you're more important than you could ever think!

Your friend, Abbi

Dear Abbi,

Thank you for your letter, I'm so thankful you're thinking of me after all these years. Are you sure though? I really don't feel very important. I don't think I can do all that, but thanks for trying to make me feel better. I'm just not important.

Your old friend, Mr.Tree

Dear Mr.Tree,

Don't doubt yourself, Mr.Tree, You and your fellow trees are so important to the environment. You do amazing things every day without even knowing it and some good ways to help trees like you are people can cut down less trees and use eco friendly solutions.

Your friend, Abbi

Dear Abbi,

Thank you so much, I didn't know I was so important. I feel much better already.

Your grateful friend, Mr.Tree

Sources: <https://youtu.be/UnwMq1gGjkh>