

2017 IFPC

Architecture Competition

University of Idaho Arena

opsis architecture – Idaho Arena Design 2017

“Best Use of Idaho Wood”

– Architecture Student Design Award Luncheon –

12.4.17

Clearwater-Whitewater Room
11:45 am – 1:45 pm
Open to Students, Faculty, Public

Competition Jurors:

Jesse Short | Plant Manager, Idaho Forest Group
Scott Lawrence | Assistant Professor of Architecture, University of Idaho
John Day | AIA- Idaho Chapter President, Slichter | Ugrin Architecture
Alec Holser | Opsis Architecture, AIA

Public Speaker – Alec Holser
“Wood Design: Connecting Sustainability and Beauty in a Regional Architecture”

Previous Competition Winners:

2016– Ruina Du

2015– Caleb Ehly

Program Goal:

The Best Use of Idaho Wood Architectural Design Awards is a partnership between the Idaho Forest Products Commission, American Institute of Architects Idaho Chapter and the University of Idaho College of Art and Architecture. The objective of the partnership is to encourage, recognize and support the creative and innovative use of Idaho wood in architectural design.

University of Idaho
College of Art and Architecture

